

Jewell & Associates, a Deltek Premier Partner, was a finalist for the Partner Award at Deltek's Annual Project Excellence Award Ceremony

Vienna, Virginia (PRWEB) May 23, 2008 – Jewell & Associates, a Deltek Premier Partner, was honored at Deltek Insight 2008 as a finalist for The Partner Award for delivering excellent implementation services to their client, V2 Systems, Inc. Kevin Parker, CEO of Deltek presented the award.

Jewell & Associates worked closely with V2 Systems to implement their Deltek Vision system. Deltek Vision is a leading enterprise software solution designed for professional services firms to improve business performance, streamline operations, and win new business by integrating end-to-end business processes by automating the marketing, financial management, planning, tracking and administration of resources and projects.

This was the first year Deltek hosted the Annual Project Excellence Awards. Winners were determined by a panel including senior Deltek executives and a Senior Analyst from Forrester Research, Andy Salunga. Mr. Salunga is a recognized industry expert on process improvement methodologies, and co-leads Forrester's research on the project-based solutions marketplace.

“We have experienced, first hand, the true value that Jewell and Associates can provide to a project-driven organization, said Guy Hinkler of V2 Systems. “ Deltek Vision has positively impacted our firm, enabling us to work in a more cohesive manner to gage and achieve our goals.”
